Consent

You are asked to read the information contained in this leaflet. Sign the attached consent form to show that you understand the examination and bring it with you on the day of your examination. The consultant performing the test will answer the questions you may have and you may change your mind at any time.

What is a Colonoscopy?

A colonoscopy is a procedure that allows the Consultant to look at the lining of the large bowel (colon). It allows the Consultant to check the bowel for any abnormalities such as inflammation, polyps etc. A long flexible tube/scope (thinner than your finger) with a light and a camera inside is passed through the rectum into the bowel.

The procedure can take 30-40 minutes. A biopsy may be taken if indicated. This will cause you no pain. Removing polyps increases the risk of the procedure but reduces the risk of bowel cancer in the years ahead.

RISKS

Complications of this procedure are rare however, include perforation (tear), haemorrhage (bleeding) or reactions to medications. These complications may require urgent medical treatment or even surgical intervention (operation) and can carry risk to life and health. It is important to remember that, although colonoscopy is the best test for detecting bowel polyps and cancer, no test is perfect and even with complete examination, serious disease can be missed in up to 5% of cases.

MEDICATIONS (TABLETS)

You may continue to take essential medication but if you are taking anticoagulants such as Warfarin, Plavix, Aspirin, Eliquis or Pradaxa you should receive/seek specific advice from the doctor when the test is being organised.

Iron tablets should be stopped one week before examination.

If you have any concerns about your diabetes you should contact the Unit for advice before you attend for your test. Please inform your doctor

PREPARATION FOR THE EXAMINATION

DURING THE PROCEDURE

- A nurse will be with you at all times

- An intravenous injection (sedation and a pain relieving medication) is given into the vein to make you feel relaxed and sleepy but not unconscious. This is not a general anaesthetic.
- A monitor will be placed on your finger to assess heart rate and oxygen levels and your blood pressure will be measured every few minutes using a blood pressure cuff on your arm.
- The doctor passes the scope through your rectum and into your bowel
- Air will be passed into the bowel via the scope which can cause some cramping but this usually passes quickly
- When the procedure is finished the scope is removed
